

Repairs and redecoration

John Ruskin School, Camberwell, South London

Highlights

Bailey Garner selected Axis for a high-volume, five-week contract after we delivered a number of repair and maintenance projects in the education sector with them.

Scope of works included repairing and repainting sash windows and doors, repointing brickwork, renewing wrought iron fencing, plus general decoration of gates, fences, banisters, handrails and pipes and maintenance of four five-storey internal stairwells.

Heavy duty materials were chosen to give the new decorations the longest life cycle and to withstand the wear and tear of everyday school life. A four coat 'fleck' paint process was used on the internal stairwell walls and anti-climb paint was used on the external pipe work.

Axis completed the programme during a five-week summer holiday window and delivered the project a week before the teachers returned to start their term planning sessions.
