

Restack project

Cobalt Square, Metropolitan Police, London

Highlights

Our specialist security-cleared team was appointed to a major restack project at Cobalt Square on behalf of The Metropolitan Police.

The vast space within Cobalt Square was completely restructured to maximise the building's potential whilst promoting open plan working. The building was fully occupied by staff during the 16 week project.

In the basement we converted the existing dining area into locker rooms and storage areas, including construction of new walls and ceilings, new flooring and lighting.

Works to the ground floor included converting multiple internal offices to open plan space, also involving the fitting of bi-folding walls to enable smaller areas when required.

Full decoration, new carpets and the conversion of a small tea point into a large kitchen/dining area completed the work on the ground floor.

Specifications

- Full conversions of four floors whilst in occupancy
- Meeting rooms, dining areas and open plan space
- Air conditioning, extract and ventilation systems
- New mains supplies
- Fitted kitchens and tea rooms
- Walls, ceiling, carpets and flooring
- Redecoration

£900,000 value
16 weeks duration

The first, second and third floors were all converted from multiple internal offices to open plan areas. This included secure rooms and meeting rooms, all with sound proof walls and doors as well as four refurbished tea rooms.

New mains power supplies were installed to all areas, which included air conditioning and ventilation systems with a specialist extract system fitted within the workshop.

Contact

marie.partner@axiseurope.com

020 3597 2538

axiseurope.com