

Community Centre Refurbishment

L&Q, Starting Point, East London

Highlights

Axis worked in partnership with L&Q to deliver a 6-week community centre refurbishment project at Starting Point in Ilford, Barking.

Starting Point is central to the local community, offering facilities including a training room, three offices, kitchen/dining area, disabled WC, gents WC, ladies WC and external garden space/courtyard. It is used for diverse local groups including training centres, colleges, and small businesses.

To encourage more people to use the hall, our community centre refurbishment project included full internal redecoration and renewal of carpets and white goods in the kitchen as well as garden clearance.

Internally, we washed down all the walls and applied mist coat and two full coats of emulsion paint. We also completely replaced the carpet in the communal areas, meeting rooms and front office as well as all the blinds.

Specifications

- Full internal redecoration
- Front entrance door repair
- Carpet renewal throughout
- Replace window blinds
- Replace kitchen white goods
- Upgrade garden furniture
- Clear rear garden

£20,000 value
6 weeks duration

Externally, Axis repaired the faulty automatic front door, dismantling and refitting it, renewing ironmongery, and sealants and refreshing decorations.

Additional external refurbishments took place in the courtyard where we brushed down and power washed wood and stone to remove weeds and moss. And we additionally painted the courtyard with two coats of decorative wood stain and replaced the garden furniture here.
